Category	Data Types Collected	Purpose
BIOMETRIC	Facial recognition vector embeddings (mathematical representations); liveness detection metadata	Identity verification at attendance kiosk; anti-spoofing

These vectors cannot be reverse-engineered to reconstruct a facial photograph. Original capture images are processed at the edge device and are not transmitted to or retained on TimeLogic servers.

Data Privacy Commitment — We Do Not Sell Your Data

ABSOLUTE COMMITMENT: TimeLogic Technologies does NOT sell, rent, trade, barter, or otherwise transfer Personal Data or Biometric Data belonging to the Organisation or its employees to any third party for commercial, marketing, or any other purpose. This commitment is unconditional and applies regardless of the subscription tier, contract value, or any other commercial consideration.

TimeLogic further commits to the following privacy principles:

- No Third-Party Advertising: TimeLogic does not use Organisation or employee data to serve targeted advertising on behalf of any third party, nor does it share data with advertising networks or data brokers.
- Limited Disclosure: Data shall only be disclosed to third parties where strictly necessary to operate the Platform (e.g., cloud infrastructure providers under binding data processing agreements), where required by a valid court order or applicable Nigerian law, or where the Organisation provides explicit written consent.
- Sub-Processor Accountability: Where TimeLogic engages third-party sub-processors (such as cloud hosting providers), those sub-processors shall be bound by contractual data protection obligations no less stringent than those in this Agreement.

4. Employee Data Ownership: The Organisation retains ownership of all employee data submitted to the Platform. TimeLogic processes this data solely as a data processor acting on the Organisation's instructions.
5. Data Access by TimeLogic Staff: Access to Organisation data by TimeLogic personnel is restricted to authorised support and engineering staff on a need-to-know basis, subject to internal access controls and audit logging.

6.1 — Applicable Legal Framework

Both parties agree to comply with the following applicable laws and regulations in their processing of personal data under this Agreement:

- Nigeria Data Protection Regulation (NDPR) 2019, as issued by the National Information Technology Development Agency (NITDA)
- Nigeria Data Protection Act (NDPA) 2023
- The Constitution of the Federal Republic of Nigeria 1999 (as amended) with respect to the right to privacy
- Any other applicable sector-specific data protection regulations in force in Nigeria

6.2 — Organisation's Data Protection Responsibilities

1. The Organisation shall act as Data Controller for all employee personal data submitted to the Platform and shall ensure that it has a valid lawful basis for processing under the NDPA 2023 (including obtaining informed consent from employees where required).
2. The Organisation shall maintain a current employee data privacy notice informing enrolled staff of the nature, purpose, and duration of data processing conducted via TimeLogic.
3. The Organisation shall promptly notify TimeLogic (within 48 hours of becoming aware) of any suspected breach of employee data security, accidental disclosure, or unauthorised access.
4. The Organisation shall not enrol any minor (person under 18 years of age) on the Platform without appropriate legal guardianship consent and documentation.

6.3 — Data Retention & Deletion

1. TimeLogic retains data for the duration of the active subscription period plus a maximum of 90 days following subscription expiry or account closure (the "Retention Window"), to allow the Organisation to export records.
2. Upon written request received before the Retention Window expires, TimeLogic shall permanently delete all Organisation data within 30 business days.
3. Biometric vector data shall be deleted immediately upon an employee's de-registration from the Platform or upon receipt of a verified deletion request from the Organisation.

Organisation's Obligations & Responsibilities

- Lawful Payroll Deductions: Where the Platform is used in conjunction with payroll systems, the Organisation is solely responsible for ensuring that any deductions from employee wages — whether for lateness, absence, or other reasons — comply with the Nigerian Labour Act (Cap L1, LFN 2004) and applicable employment contracts. TimeLogic provides tools for recording attendance data; the legal validity of resulting payroll deductions is the Organisation's sole responsibility.
- Subscription Payments: The Organisation shall pay all applicable subscription fees in accordance with the selected plan and payment schedule. Continued access to the Platform is conditional upon payment remaining current.
- Compliance with Laws: The Organisation shall, at all times, ensure its use of the Platform complies with all applicable Nigerian laws and regulations, including but not limited to employment law, data protection law, and anti-discrimination legislation.

TimeLogic's Obligations to the Organisation
